

Workshop Topics

- What is a historic resource?
- How does historic preservation relate to local planning?
- How to apply the Secretary of the Interior's Standards for Rehabilitation of Historic Buildings?
- What Tax Credits or other incentive are there for historic preservation?
- When does the State Historical Building Code apply?
- What is the connection between preservation of historic buildings and sustainability?

Who Should Attend

City and County Planning and Development Services personnel

Planning Commissioners, Council Members, Board of Supervisors & historical building curators

Owners of historic homes and others interested in historic buildings or historic preservation

Why Historic Preservation Matters

- Historic resources—buildings, districts, landscapes—are important community assets.
- Historic resources provide tangible links to the community's historical and cultural heritage.
- Historical resources help create each community's special character and identity.
- Historic buildings represent substantial investments in energy, time, money, and raw materials.
- The maintenance, rehabilitation, and adaptive reuse of older buildings creates multiple economic benefits locally.
- The retention and adaptive reuse of older and historic buildings are important strategies for economic development and sustainability.

DEDICATED TO SERVING THE
PUBLIC, ENSURING THE SAFETY &
VITALITY OF THE COMMUNITY,
& PROMOTING PROSPERITY FOR ALL

City of Oroville
Planning and Development Services
Department
1735 Montgomery Street
Oroville, CA 95965-4897
(530) 538-2425 FAX (530) 538-2426
www.cityoforoville.org

HISTORIC PRESERVATION WORKSHOP

Date: October 25, 2012

Time: 9:00am-3:00pm

Where: 1735 Montgomery Street
Oroville, CA 95965
City Council Chambers

Registration: $20—includes lunch

Sponsored by

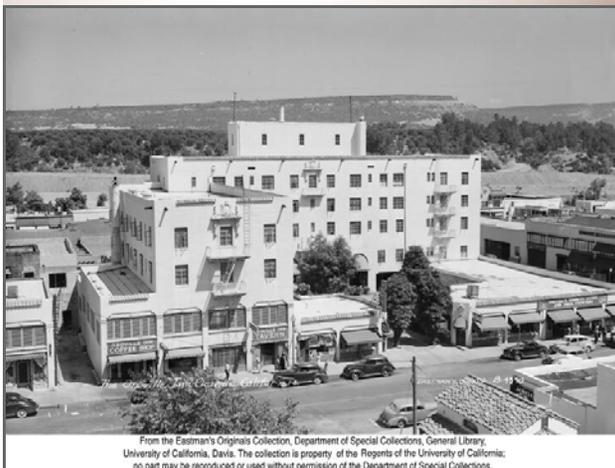

CITY OF OROVILLE
Planning & Development Services
Department
&
California State Office of Historic Preservation

Presenters

Timothy Brandt, AIA
Senior Restoration Architect
LEED Accredited
Office of Historic Preservation

Lucinda Woodward
State Historian III
Local Government Unit Supervisor
Office of Historic Preservation

Marie Nelson
State Historian II
Survey/CLG Coordinator
Office of Historic Preservation

From the Eastman's Originals Collection, Department of Special Collections, General Library, University of California, Davis. The collection is property of the Regents of the University of California; no part may be reproduced or used without permission of the Department of Special Collections.

The California State Office of Historic Preservation (OHP)

- Partners with local, state, federal, and tribal agencies, non-profit organizations, and the general public to help ensure cultural resources are appreciated and maintained as a matter of public interest and community pride;
- Carries out mandated responsibilities and administer programs under federal and state historic preservation laws.
- Promotes a comprehensive preservation planning approach and urge the integration of historic preservation with broader land use planning efforts and decisions;
- Offers technical assistance and preservation training in order to create a better understanding of the programs OHP administers;
- Supports sustainability and adaptive reuse of historic resources in ways that preserve historic character and provide economic benefits;
- Maintains the statewide Historical Resources Inventory and makes available information about the state's historical and archaeological resources; and,
- Encourages recognition of the vital legacy of cultural, educational, recreational, aesthetic, economic, social and environmental benefits of historic preservation for the enrichment of present and future generations.

OFFICE OF HISTORIC PRESERVATION

1725 23rd Street, Suite 100
Sacramento, CA 95816

PH: 916-445-7000 FAX: 916-445-7053

EMAIL: calshpo@parks.ca.gov

www.ohp.parks.ca.gov

Registration Form

Please print in ink or type and return the form by October 19, 2012. You may also register by emailing the registration form to topetela@cityoforoville.org. There is limited seating for this workshop. Any questions direct to Luis Topete at (530) 538-2408.

Last Name

First Name

Title

Jurisdiction/Company

Business Address

City

State

Zip

Business Phone

Fax

Email Address

Registration Fee: $20.00 per person;
lunch and refreshments will be provided

SEND TO:

City of Oroville

Planning & Development Services Dept.

Attn: Luis Topete

1735 Montgomery Street

Oroville, CA 95965